Q&A

Q: How did you start to get involved in brand building and also having a successful career?

A: I have always been interested in innovative designs and mum is one of my biggest idols who headed the dressing making and fashion design school. I was fortunate to have been exposed at an early age to art and culture, the creativity in the delivery of brand advertising and designs was an eye opening to many alike in London. I went on to graduate in branding and communications design from two universities in London and a post graduate in Creative Branding. I started as junior to an art director to being a creative director to oversee the entire concept from products and talents in a production.

Q: Based on your experience, what is the most important skill / idea / mindset as a brand builder?

A: Understanding the values of the esthetics, design and functionality in image grooming; proposition of mindset and the brand positioning for each individuals and corporate for the above mentioned.

Q: Observing the current beauty (local/international) market, what do you think about the present beauty industry and what might happen in the near future?

A: There is an increase in both local and international demand for quality skin care products and services in the beauty industry and more women in the workforce are earning middle to medium high income, driving them to demand premium brands. At the meantime studies show men's grooming product in care products, such as cleansers and moisturizers and pre-shave products are increasing in the market. They will continue to grow at a steady rate as society is getting affluent, and consumers both old and young are pretty well exposed to various types of grooming product range.

Q: Can you describe what is image / brand building?

A: Image / brand building is the impression in the consumers' mind of a total personality. It is a unique set of association in the minds of customers concerning what a brand stands. It is developed and cultivated through advertising and promotion via various mediums in which is to imply promises the brand makes.

Q: How is image / brand building important for the beauty industry as a whole, for example to salon owners, brand owners, beauticians, hair stylists and etc.?

A: It is the overall image / brand perception of the brand for each salon or beauty parlor of what the brand stand for and nature of the service.

Q: Could you provide 3 simple tips to how salon owners can improve their brand image?

- A:
1. Consistency – repeat of brand promises in quality services and products of consumers' exception
  2. Uniformity – Look and feel, standardization, systematic
  3. Connectivity – Services, personal touch, trust, confident

Q: A word of advice to all beauty industry players of how to stand out from the rest.

AWARDS NIGHT

Many newcomer or younger generations may not know the difficult path many pioneers have walked through, especially the ups and downs, and since the time when beauty business is not yet be seen and considered as a career with bright future, hence the birth of Cosmobeauté Inspiring People Awards.

Founder of Cosmobeauté,
Mr. Cp Saw.

BEAUTY UNITE was filled with flamboyant performances from Malaysian local Chinese Jazz artist May Mow, newcomer of the Chinese music industry - Celist and not forgetting the young dynamic Malaysian female DJ who are sought after in international music scene - DJ Tiana. It was the first time for all beauty industry icons to let their hair down, having the utmost fun together with everyone as one big family!

Big thanks to all the sponsors, media, exhibitors, buyers, beauty chain & franchise salon owners and all beauty industry players who came and attend to Beauty Unite. The night ended with great success and laughter with all the supports.
