Session 1 New Horizon in Acne Care

Acne by definition is multifactorial chronic inflammatory disease of pilosebaceous units. In recent years, due to better understanding of the pathogenesis of acne, new therapeutic modalities are designed. Availability of new treatment options to complement the existing armamentarium should help to achieve the successful therapy of greater numbers of acne patients, ensure improved tolerability and fulfil patient expectations. Successful management of acne needs careful selection of anti-acne agents according to clinical presentation and individual patient needs.

Session 2 Current Trends in Cosmeceuticals

Cosmeceuticals are products that have both cosmetic and therapeutic (medical or drug-like) effects, and are intended to have a beneficial effect on skin health and beauty. Like cosmetics, they are applied topically as creams or lotions but contain active ingredients that have an effect on skin cell function. Trending in cosmeceuticals for 2019: products that are organic and microbiome friendly.

Session 3 The Scar Expert Forum

Acne scarring, which occurs in 95 percent of all people with acne vulgaris, can be challenging to treat. Severely inflamed lesions may leave permanent scars, which can be associated with psychological pain, low self-esteem, and reduced quality of life. Multimodal approaches can often be effective in treating acne scars. These procedures, such as resurfacing, lifting, excisions, and filling, may be performed at the same time in a single procedure or in sequence. So, What's new in treating acne scars?

Session 4 Thread face lift with mesh system (from Korea)

A thread facelift is a convenient, less invasive alternative to traditional facelifts, designed for people experiencing early signs of aging, such as minor facial sagging. There are so many thread lift technique being introduced and used. One of so many that is effective for facelift is thread facelift with MESH system, and what is thread facelift with MESH system?

Session 5 Skin Rejuvenation : The Art, Science & Procedure

Sun, skin disorders, aging and even heredity can all contribute to skin irregularities on the face and elsewhere on the body. These include textural irregularities like wrinkles and acne scars, pigmentation changes like freckles, sunspots or visible blood vessels. In addition, skin may lose tone, feel less firm and lose the healthy glow that is evident in younger skin.

Some of the procedures can be addressed to gain rejuvenation of skin qualities which are platelet rich plasma, topical bleaching agent, chemical peels, and topical multipptide for wrinkles skin.

Session 6 Botulinum toxin Injection

The wrinkle treatment can be preventive, using botulinum toxin. They're a purified form of botulinum toxin A, meaning there's no botulism risk when used properly. For cosmetics purposes, the injection procedures of botulinum toxin are used for treating facial expressions, and neck rhytides but currently its being used as of label procedures for other indications such as breast augmentation and keloids.

Session 7 Male & Female Beautification with Filler

Aesthetic medicine is still a new and evolving field of medicine. With the increasing number of males presenting for rejuvenation treatments it is imperative that the expert practitioner extends his or her expertise to the matter of male rejuvenation. What constitutes a beautiful female face, and the techniques to non-surgically make a female face beautiful will not translate onto the male patient. An understanding of the different anatomical characteristics as well as the different expectations for treatment will however assist in providing the best treatment outcomes for male and female patients. Find out more about the differences for the filler injection procedures between male and female in closing session.

Taiwan Pavilion

From Nature to Natural Beauty

Many products are offered to improve the appearance of the skin, both from within and outside the country. Now various beauty products from Taiwan have also spread to various countries including Indonesia. Various brands from Asia have a huge impact on the beauty industry globally, including from Taiwan. There are a number of local brands originating from small businesses and using natural or organic materials which eventually spread their wings to other markets in the Asian region, one of which is Indonesia.

Dermocosmetic products from Taiwanese dermatologists are well-known and trusted by Taiwanese consumers, so they are able to develop well in the market and are not less competitive. These products are considered capable of meeting the needs of beauty consumers for the trend of natural ingredients for cosmetics. Seeing this trend and not lagging behind the times, Taiwan is again intensively introducing its cosmetic products which indeed carry natural ingredients.

Don't miss the Taiwan Pavilion at Cosmobeauté Indonesia and find their superior products!
